FABRICATION MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

Sales and service of machinery and equipment are specialties with MagRabbit - AIW. A carefully selected inventory assures quick delivery of most items to fill immediate equipment needs. Factory shipping arrangements can be made to meet special applications, frequently required by equipment users. Monthly installment financing plans and lease programs to fit the needs of our machinery and equipment customers are available.

STEEL SERVICE CENTER

We buy large quantities of steel from mills to resell. We also provide value added cutting to size, bending, burning, braking and shearing to meet our customers' special needs. We stock a wide range of carbon steel merchant bars, structural shapes, sheets, plate, tubing, expanded metal, grip strut, bar grating, reinforcing mesh, rebar, and pipe. Our product is carbon steel, but our real business is availability and customer service. Our knowledgeable and experienced sales force can help you with your steel needs. MagRabbit - AIW's Steel Service Center has earned a reputation as a dependable source for steel with prompt estimates at competitive prices.

FABRICATED STEEL

The MagRabbit - AIW structural facility has the equipment and personnel to fill virtually any order, from large industrial and commercial to small specialty jobs. Burning, shearing, rolling, punching, grinding, welding - these operations, and others, receive the individual attention of our skilled technicians and are carefully monitored along the way for complete quality control. Our shop provides a wide range of capacities for steel fabrication. Our structural and miscellaneous steel shops fabricate approximately 6,000 tons per year.

REINFORCING STEEL DEPARTMENT

Our rebar facility handles those jobs that require fabricated steel reinforcement for concrete. The MagRabbit - AIW rebar shop fabricates approximately 30,000 tons annually, supplying rebar to both the commercial and industrial markets. This work is performed on state-of-the-art equipment, bending shapes from coil stock. Fabricating rebar shapes from coils minimizes waste, improves productivity, and ensures that MagRabbit - AIW remain a low cost provider to our customers.
